1-to-1 peer support leading up to MAID and the grief following, with people who have personally experienced MAID alongside their loved one.

“ It helped to be able to talk with someone who has been through a similar experience and hear how they got through what has been, for me, the most trying experience of my life. ”

The Many Faces of MAID: What to Expect When Someone You Know Chooses Medical Assistance in Dying

17 storytellers share their raw, honest experiences, encompassing a wide range of emotions felt throughout the MAID process; expected, unexpected, easy, difficult and surprising. It's like a support group in a book.
